IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our husband and father, Mr. Henry Spencer Garrett, who passed away one year ago today, March 13, 1958.
One year ago you left us,
And took our hearts along.
And made a weaker family
Of one that felt so strong.
Before our eyes you faded,
Leaving weaker day by day,
Patiently bearing your suffering
Until God took you away.
If we could turn back the pages
And start the book anew,
We would want to live it as we have
A life of love with you.
Little we knew when, dawned that morn,
The sorrow that day would bring,
The end was sudden, the shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
The world may change from year to year,
And friends from day to day,
But never will the one so dear
From memory pass away.
Memories are keepsakes
No one can steal,
Death is a heartache
Only God can heal.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children and Grandchildren.

AUXILIARY PROGRAM BROWNIES PRESENT

Brownie Troops No. 16, 70 and 81 presented a program for their sponsoring group, the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 104, on Monday night at the American Legion Hall under the guidance of their leaders, Mrs. John Cole, Mrs. John Grinela and Mrs. John Taylor, and their assistant leaders, Mrs. Roy Robertson, Mrs. C .R. Thomas, Mrs. C. R. Wooldridge and Mrs. David Reed, they gave the Brownie promise, sang several songs, and ended the program with a Friendship Circle while singing "Taps." The program was presented by the Community Service Chairman for the Unit, Mrs. R. D .Robinson.

Refreshments were served, with Mrs. Ivey Holland serving as hostess .Mothers and fathers of the Brownies and committee members were guests for the meeting, and were welcomed by the president.

TO VISIT HERE ANTIQUE CARS

Appomattox will have as guests on Sunday, April 19, a group of vintage automobile enthusiasts from the Lynchburg Chapter, American Antique Automobile Club. Some 27 members plan a tour on that occasion. Oldest car in the procession will be the restored 1902 Oldsmobile owned by Preston L. Morgan.

To qualify as an antique, a car must be at least 25 years old and not used regularly for transportation. Antinque Car Clubs are growing in popularity all over the nation. Special licenses are available for such vehicles, and they never fail to attract wide attention when the clubs go on a tour. It is presumed that the Lynchburg club will converge on the famed Surrender Grounds at Old Appomattox Court House, and it is hoped that none of the vehicles will "surrender" en route.

MRS. ABBITT HEADS CANCER CRUSADE

Mrs. George Abbitt, Jr., will lead the 1959 Cancer Crusade in Appomattox County, it was announced today.

The life-saving and fund-raising drive will begin April 1 and has been termed "the greatest attack ever mounted against a disease." The whole month has been designated Cancer Control Month by Presidential Proclamation.

"Because cancer eventually strikes two out of every three families, there is an urgent need for everyone to join in the counterattack, either as volunteers or donors or both."

"Americans have always worked together to solve important problems. Cancer is one of the most important, for it makes no distinctions between rich and poor, farmer, or city-dweller old or young. It is the number two disease killer in the United States."

Mrs. Abbitt said that the Crusade volunteers will not only ring doorbells to collect funds, but will distribute life-saving information about cancer. The literature stresses the value of periodic health check-ups to "guard your family," she said. The ultimate goal is complete victory in the war against cancer, which claims about 255,000 lives each year.

The American Cancer Society undertakes a national research program which employs some 1,000 top-flight scientists in laboratories over the country.

Boa Gets New Home

Buffalo.- Frank May, , who unloads bananas from freight cars, recently came face to face with two little beady eyes peering over a stalk .Behind the eyes was a 3-foot boa constrictor.

The Buffalo Museum of Science, which had no boa, was delighted. It added the snake to its collection.

Boas are not poisonous, but they do give a nasty squeeze.

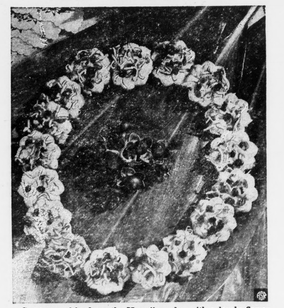
"Aloha" With A Cookie Lei!



Greet your friends as the Hawaiians do—with a lovely flower "lei," or wreath. But make it a rich, buttery coconut cooky wreath... cookies you can make easily, cookies "blossoming" with maraschino petals and fluffy flakes of snowy coconut. Use it, too, as a party table decoration—the cookies placed on large flat palm leaves on an uncovered table. You might add some of the attractive wood roses that are available from your florist.

Coconut Butter Wreaths

½ cup butter or margarine
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg white
1 teaspoon water
Angel Flake Coconut
Red and green maraschino cherries

Cream butter and sugar together until light and fluffy. Mix in egg yolk and vanilla. Add flour and salt; mix well. Mold dough with a cooky press into shape of wreaths. Combine the egg white with water and brush over the cookies. Sprinkle with coconut and decorate with red and green cherries. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 8 to 10 minutes, or until golden brown. Makes 1½ dozen cookies.

Saw Has Been Man's Tool Since Earliest Times

WASHINGTON — Cave man, no less than the do-it-yourself enthusiast of today, could hardly get along without a saw.

The first saws were serrated flints. Then man learned how to mount flakes of stone in a grooved piece of wood or bone. However crude, this composite tool with teeth was the forerunner of the powered chain saw that has been such a boon to the lumber industry.

The saw of tomorrow, forest researchers say, will be a ray that can cut a log swiftly and cleanly without leaving sawdust. The ray's intense heat will plane boards during the cutting process.

The origin of the saw can only be conjectured. One legend says the inventor got the idea from the spined snout of a sawfish; another holds that the saw was inspired by a wasp's toothed sting.

More likely man devised the saw out of sheer need. Flint saws have been found in Stone Age caves. With them, paleolithic hunters gained mastery over bone, antler, and ivory, developing a kit of tools.

In civilized societies the saw was even more important. Most wheels made before 3000 B.C. were tripartite wooden disks. It is not easy to imagine how boards could have been cut into segments of a circle without a saw of some kind. Metal saws have been unearthed from graves at Kish, one of the more important ancient cities of Sumer.

Sputnik Info Out Last Summer

LOS ANGELES—When Russia's first sputnik began its beeping around the earth last October, and American radio operators twirled dials in a frantic effort to tune in, a popular Russian magazine for radio hams carrying detailed descriptions of the Sputnik's radio operation lay unnoticed in library shelves throughout the United States.

The July issue of "Radio," a monthly magazine published by the USSR Ministry of Communications, arrived at the University of California. Los Angeles, Engineering Library in August, two months before the first sputnik was la...ched.

The Russian word "sputnik," meaning a travel companion or satellite, was used throughout the articles which described the radio set-up of the Russian and American earth satellites.

"Radio" told its readers that radio amateurs throughout the world could make useful contributions to science during the International Geophysical Year by recording their observations of satellites, the launching of which seems to have been taken for granted by the magazine's editors.

Eye Care Is Matter For Properly Trained

NEW YORK — No matter how smart you may be at painting the kitchen or repairing damaged furniture, don't ever take your seeing problems into your own hands. Pointing out that every day is Sight-Saving Day, the Better Vision Institute stresses the wisdom of leaving all visual decisions and procedures up to a competent eyesight specialist, who alone has the necessary training, experience, judgement and skill.

The layman can't even determine when he needs visual aid, for he doesn't know what normal standards are and seeing troubles often creep up so gradually as to go unnoticed for a long time. Far too many people only visit a specialist when they become sharply aware of discomfort or failing sight. By that time irreparable damage may have been done.

Some Big, Some Small

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—American cars are going to get bigger and bigger—and small and smaller.

Continuing increase in multiple car owning families with the family car becoming larger and the second car becoming smaller is the picture for the future, according to Aarre K. Lahti, associate professor of design at the University of Michigan.

Decentralized cities and industries will make multiple-car ownership mandatory, Lahti says.

Electric Eye

NEW YORK—An electric eye that uses atomic radiation instead of a visible light beam has been developed. The maker says it uses a small amount of radio active isotope strontium 90 to replace the light bulb used in standard photoelectric-cell systems. Its advantages are said to be a higher degree of reliability and lower operation without need of repairs.
